East Forsyth's mile relay team may have a national Junior Olympic record, according to Dan Hackney, meet director. The time of 3:22.5 recorded at the meet here Friday is better than the listed national time of 3:24, held by the Southern Pacific team.

Hackney said the time would be submitted for a national mark.

"Of course, we don't know what times were run in other meets this year," said Hackney. "But this is better than anything done last season."

Members of the East team include Denny Clodfelter, Phil Coleman, Sammy Knight and Steve Whicker.

Mount Tabor athletes were honored at the annual awards day held earlier this week.

Dan McNatt received the most valuable football player award.

Bill Crouch won the most valuable award for basketball.

Steve Riddle was named for baseball and Paul McNeill for track. Tom Stevenson won the honor in tennis and John Robbins in wrestling.

Mount Tabor's track team re-wrote the record book, breaking all the school records.

Plans for the Junior Olympics for girls are rounding into shape. The event will be held in High Point around the last of June and will be open to girls 14-17 years of age. This is the first time North Carolina has had a Junior Olympics for girls.

Any girl interested in taking part should write Dan Rackney at the High Point YMCA.

The 14-15 year olds will compete in the 100-yard dash, 440-yard dash, low hurdles, high jump and broad jump. The 16-17 year-olds will take part in the 220-yard dash, 880-yard run, low hurdles, high jump and broad jump. Any girl taking part in the 880 may not take part in any other event.

The top performers will advance to the regional meet to be held in Charlotte on July 20.
